Welcome to the Staten Island University Hospital Department of Emergency Medicine.

SIUH is an incredible place to do your 4th year EM rotation because we offer the opportunities that matter most in an excellent Emergency Medicine Rotation:

- High Acuity Critical Care
- Level-I Adult and Pediatric trauma center
- STEMI center with a 24-hour cath lab
- 70-bed ED, including a 6 bed trauma bay
- Regional burn center
- Regional stroke center
- Formal Lecture Program designed exclusively for students, including:
  - Suture and Splint labs, US and EKG skills Lab and research opportunities
- Special interests through elective:
  - 2-week Dedicated Critical Care elective
  - 4-week Adult Emergency Medicine elective
  - 4-week Pediatric Emergency Medicine elective

We have what matters most, and we welcome students who seek a challenging and exciting learning experience.

Erica Olsen, MD,
Director of Medical Student Education

Contact: Jennifer Cohen
Medical Student and Residency Coordinator
Jennifer_Cohen@siuh.edu or 718-226-1548
For more info visit www.statenislandem.com

North Shore LIJ Staten Island University Hospital
475 Seaview Ave, Staten Island, NY 10305